

News Release

07 October 2013

"The Director of Public Prosecutions, Barra McGrory QC recognises that there has been considerable public interest surrounding the decision not to prosecute Mr Gerry Adams in October 2011 in relation to an allegation that he withheld information in connection with the Liam Adams case.

"While the Director has confidence in the evidential decision taken by the PPS prior to his appointment he has asked the Attorney General to independently review the matter. The Attorney General will be given full access to all materials that he considers necessary in order to complete this review."
