Our Aim

The aim of the Public Prosecution Service is to provide the people of Northern Ireland with an independent, fair and effective prosecution service.

The Service will be wholly independent of both police and Government; its decisions will be impartial, based on an independent and impartial assessment of the available evidence and the public interest.

- Fairness

All actions will be undertaken with complete impartiality, to the highest ethical and professional standards. All persons, including those accused of offences, will be treated fairly. All victims and witnesses will be treated with respect and sensitivity.

- Effectiveness

All prosecution decisions will be taken and every prosecution conducted in an effective and efficient manner. We will provide value for money, while delivering a timely and quality service.

PUBLIC PROSECUTION SERVICE

DISABILITY ACTION PLAN

Introduction

Under Section 49A of the Disability Discrimination Act 1995 (DDA 1995) (as amended by Article 5 of the Disability Discrimination (Northern Ireland) Order 2006), the Public Prosecution Service for Northern Ireland (PPS) is required when carrying out its functions to have due regard to the need to:

- promote positive attitudes towards disabled people; and
- encourage participation by disabled people in public life ('the disability duties').¹

Under Section 49B of the DDA 1995, the PPS is also required to submit a Disability Action Plan to the Equality Commission for Northern Ireland showing how it proposes to fulfil these duties in relation to our functions.

Statement of Commitment from the Director of Public Prosecutions for Northern Ireland

This is the sixth Disability Action Plan to be produced by the PPS and covers the period 1 April 2017 to 31 March 2018.² It explains what PPS will do to implement the disability duties over the next year.

Notes 1-2: see page 12.

As the Director of Public Prosecutions for Northern Ireland, I am committed to effectively fulfilling these disability duties through the implementation of this Disability Action Plan.

We will allocate appropriate resources including people, time and money, in order to implement this plan effectively and, where appropriate, will build measures and targets relating to the disability duties into corporate and annual plans.

We will continue to have the appropriate internal arrangements in place to ensure that the disability duties are complied with and that this Disability Action Plan is effectively implemented.

We will ensure that this plan is communicated to all staff and that the necessary training and guidance is provided to enable them to provide a first class service to all those with whom they come into contact through the course of their work.

Responsibility for the implementation, review and evaluation of this Disability Action Plan sits with the PPS Management Board. As part of the commitment to our obligations, the Management Board has appointed the Senior Assistant Director for Resources and Change, who is a member of the Management Board, as Equality Champion for the Service. I also confirm the PPS's commitment to submitting an annual progress report to the Equality Commission, as well as carrying out a five-year review of our disability plans³. The Annual Progress Report on the Implementation of Section 75 will include coverage of the Disability Action Plan and a report on its implementation.

A copy of this plan is available on our website at www.ppsni.gov.uk within the Equality section, where all Annual Progress Reports on Section 75 implementation and Disability Action Plan implementation can also be found.

The PPS also undertakes to publish the 5 year review of its action plan when this is carried out. Press releases will be issued as appropriate to help publicise the issue of these documents.

³ Carried out in March 2017 in light of the proposed publication schedule for the Service's new Equality Scheme for the period 2017-2022.

The Public Prosecution Service

Role of the PPS

The PPS is the principal prosecuting authority in Northern Ireland. In addition to taking decisions as to prosecution in cases investigated by the police in Northern Ireland, it also considers cases investigated by other statutory authorities, such as HM Revenue and Customs.

The primary role of the PPS is to reach decisions to prosecute or not to prosecute and to have responsibility for the conduct of criminal proceedings. A range of additional services are available which have been designed to enhance the effectiveness of the Service, including the provision of prosecutorial and pre-charge advice and an enhanced service to victims and witnesses.

A range of options are also available for dealing with offenders other than through prosecution. These options include informed warnings, restorative cautions and youth conferencing. Prosecutors may also refer offenders to Driver Improvement Schemes or to a Community Based Restorative Justice Scheme.

In taking a decision as to the appropriate disposal in an individual case the prosecutor will take into account a range of public interest considerations including, for example, where the victim or defendant had, at the time of the offence or trial, significant mental or physical ill-health.

The PPS works with partner agencies, including the Police Service of Northern Ireland (PSNI), the Northern Ireland Courts and Tribunals Service (NICTS), Victim Support (VSNI) and the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children (NSPCC) to help witnesses, including those who are vulnerable, to give evidence at court.

The PPS is committed to ensuring the effective operation of legislation which provides for:

- offences against the use of threatening, abusive or insulting words or behaviour concerning disability; and
- increased penalties for offences aggravated by hostility towards a person's disability.

The PPS has also developed a Hate Crime policy which is aimed at ensuring consistency of approach in prosecuting hate crime, for example in making the court aware of its enhanced sentencing powers in relation to offences aggravated by hostility.

Policy Development

PPS also has a significant role in the development of policy within the criminal justice system and in the consultative process which is undertaken on proposed legislative reform.

Supporting Functions

A number of business areas support the main functions of the PPS, including Policy and Information, Communications, Finance, Human Resources and Information and Communications Technology.

It should be noted that responsibility for the development of policies relating to the recruitment and management of our workforce, as with all Northern Ireland Civil Servants, is the responsibility of the Department of Finance (DoF). Therefore actions relating to the two disability duties as regards these policy areas will appear in the DoF Disability Action Plan.

Public Life Positions

There are currently two independent non-executive members of the PPS Management Board, who also have a role as chair and member of the Service's Audit and Risk Committee. In addition, there is an Independent Assessor of Complaints whose role is to oversee the complaints handling processes of the PPS in relation to non-prosecutorial matters. Whilst these positions are not defined as 'public appointments' as such, people from all sections of the community were invited to apply through an open recruitment competition. These competitions were widely advertised in the press in order to reach as many people as possible.

Action Measures

Annex A (below) sets out the measures which we propose to take forward over the coming year, together with the associated performance indicators and targets.

The measures cover the following areas:

- Building Organisational Commitment
- Staff Training and Awareness Raising
- Partnership Working
- Communication
- Monitoring
- Compliance

Progress in meeting the action plan will be monitored by the PPS Equality and Diversity Steering Group (EDSG), which is chaired by the Equality Champion. Regular updates will be included in the reports made to the Management Board on equality, diversity and disability issues.

Barra McGrory QC
Director of Public Prosecutions
for Northern Ireland

Notes

1. Matters relating to the prosecution of offences are excluded by virtue of Section 49A(2)(a) of the Disability Discrimination Act 1995 (DDA 1995) (as amended by Article 5 of the Disability Discrimination (Northern Ireland) Order 2006).
2. The PPS Disability Action Plan will normally be aligned with the Service's business planning cycle; that is, it will usually cover a three year period, mirroring the Service's Corporate Plan.

However this position has now changed, in that the Service has agreed to produce a one-year business plan for 2017-18. This is to reflect the current budgetary position for the year ahead.

In light of this decision the Service has also developed a one-year Disability Action Plan to the end of March 2018, with a new 3-year plan to take effect from 1 April 2018.

3. The PPS acknowledges the work carried out by the NICS Diversity Champions Network (DCN), at which the Senior Assistant Director for Resources and Change represents the Service. The DCN had tasked its Disability Working Group with researching disability diversity in the NICS, and the Group provided its report in December 2016.

The report examined three key areas: recruitment, career development and management support, and how they relate to those with a disability. The findings focus on a number of themes within these areas and set out a series of proposed actions against each theme. These actions, if adopted across the NICS, illustrate the work which may be done in the future to support disability diversity in the NICS.

PPS is committed to engaging with those aspects of any future work programme that fall to individual departments, in continuing to fulfil its own responsibilities with regard to the disability duties.
